

Land EKG® Monitoring Kits and Products

Establishing and maintaining a monitoring program will be most effective with the essential monitoring supplies. The tools and materials in each of our three monitoring kits, (ranging from basic necessities to fully stocked, multi-site supply) have been tested and selected to best meet your monitoring needs.

- The “Saddlebag” Kit is a minimum investment including the “hardest-to-find” tools and customized materials necessary to get you started with site marking: ground sticks, production scale, “rooster tails” with anchors, and plot hoops. With these essentials, and the purchase of additional materials and supplies, a complete kit can be made field ready for: documenting photo points, setting up transects, and forage production calculations. Put these essentials into a 5-gallon pail and you are on the road to a successful monitoring program.
- The “Packer” Kit provides the highest quality tools and materials enclosed in a “tough-as-nails” field bag. This kit is designed for accuracy and time efficiency including all supplies needed to establish and maintain 5+ monitoring sites, plus: 200ft line tape, forage hoop, pocket plant press w/ mounting tape, compass, and the toughest field shears around.
- The Forage Production Kit. Are you over grazing? Over resting? Make informed management decisions based on how many lbs/a your field is actually producing. These basic kit materials and forage production cards with simple calculations will leave you with a better understanding of your forage availability.
- Year-Round Rain Gauges. Moisture amounts can vary significantly within a few miles, and 12-month precipitation data is critical to know. These gauges are freeze, evaporation, and critter-proof. Simply wire a gauge in the yard or at your most remote “back 40” section, then feel confident in a reliable moisture measurement whether they are checked monthly or once per year. Lifetime guarantee except fire or gunshot.
